I I already did the keywords when I registered the domain. . . is the domain working for any of you because it isn't for me, could it just be because I just registered it? I already activated it as well. What if I were to make 10 identicle sites and link hem all to one another, register 10 free domains, register 10 free webhosts? Would google put up all ten, or just one since they would be exactly the same except 1 link on each?
