Agent_Gibson There is no question in the professional industry as to the necessity and quality of Photoshop. I proudly use it exclusively and many of you have seen the quality of work I have produced from pure digital painting with no sourcing whatsoever.

That being said, Paint Shop is a great option for those getting started in skinning and digital painting especially due to the prohibitive cost of Photoshop (I should know).

Yeah, the cost is a little steep. But i'm getting hooked up by one of my friends who owns Photoshop 7.
