I have never heard of this bible matrix thing but the year 2012 has been the reckoning date for more than a while.

Many believe the apocolypse will occur on 2012 while others believe it will merely start a chain of events leading to it on 2012.

Nostradamus predicted an apocalyptic war to occur in 2012. So who knows.

But is it better to know the possible date of the world's demise or continue on in ignorance unaware?

I would have to choose ignorance for knowing of an approaching doom leads to worry and you cant enjoy life with worry. So ignorance really is bliss
