One question as well. Is Reveno always going to be so that you don't need a password to get on. If it is then I don't see whats stopping someone from getting on the top ladderd players name and taking wins or loosing on purpose. Last time I played Reveno you didn't need any kind of password at all to join. I also noticed that your login name could have foul language in it. Gonnnnnna be hard to regulate if it isn't changed.
