I don't have a request, but I have noticed on some forums there are areas specifically for signatures, avatars ETC maybe this could be put into a special forum such as that here and then even more people can set up their own "forum businesses" if you want to call them that, where people make signatures, avatars ETC I have seen this done before on several forums and in all "forum businesses" there are people asking for stuff. I have my own "forum business" set up on some forums and have gotten a few requests, of course the people haven't PM'd me like I asked them to for more details . . . Maybe you will get some requests . . . maybe you won't . . . I hope you do though GOOD LUCK
