lol, those n00bs.

not to sound like a pain here, but lately there was been a lot of "lag kills", like where you run around a corner and then you die. What you see on your screen is not what they see on their screen sumtimes, and they go all n00b on you say that your cheating cause you shot them around a corner. I was also in some games where the SFPS shot down to as low as 9, and stayed there =\ but most of the time it is fine
