hmm.. they seem to have dissapeared, but I'll comment none the less.

Ignorance of the rules is no excuse for being let off when you break them! It dosen't work in real life, so why should it work here?

And now the nerd comment:

one word; hypocrite. "b4" you go and use "0" (zero) to replace "O" (letter) you may wish to learn of the concept... of... a... "." (period) They do help when trying to prove that you are not a moron.

As fot the GSA being better than WOL, does anyone still have a link to the WOL vs GSA game that was played before Crimson took over the forums? I need a refresher, who won that game again?
