gibberishSome people have mentioned creating "Anti-Cheats" such as Small-Heads.

However I was thinking that one of the best anti-cheats available is actually Final Renegade for the simply reason that it is so obvious.

If someone is only running big-heads its not always clear if they are cheating, however if someone makes a one shot kill of a tank or a high level character and they are not Sakura or Havoc they are cheating which means you can ban them without any lingering doubts.

For this reason I was wondering if it would be a good idea to host FR on a lot of web sites to make it really easy to get.
