I'm confused.. if I'm full of shit, what links did you have to remove?

The individual links, there were 2 sections, you could download the map pack or you could go download each map individually, for the individual download I link to your site and cncden, but not directly to your map files. so before a person would download a map then would go to your site not to your map file.

Anyway, now they won't even have to do that as I uploaded each individual map, before you were getting traffic to your site, now that won't even happen.
