InfinintSo hes trying to get the box to come up? Try re-installing renx and gmax after completly uninstalling it, deleting any folder left manually to get ride of anything that might make it not work right after you re-install it. Also if your freind has a differnt kind of mouse set up, that might change something.

Yes that is the box he is trying to get up. He already tried reinstalling, I will see if he did like you said and deleted the whole folder, if not I will tell him to do that.
