As the upcoming domination mode scripts will soon be available in version 1.4 of the custom scripts by Jonathan Wilson, I made some graphics ready for testing it out.

I'm not all that great when it comes to graphics, but you can see it doesn't look too bad. The neutral one doesn't have a texture missing, it's a real texture with the W3D logo on, I may change it to something different at a later stage.

Each one rotates 360 degrees continuously, check the video to see. Here is a short video clip showing them spinning (low-quality avi) <http://www.phpden.co.uk/logos.avi>

I may release them if people want to use them. Post your comments or anything related to domination mode here.
