for various reasons I decided about 2 months ago to spend less time online particularly in regards to gaming. When I looked at the server tonite I noticed (with some sadness) that there were only three other servers that have been up for as long as this one. I didn;t see The Pitts so I didn;t include that in the number.I want to thank everyone who played on the server and everyone who was a mod or admin. It was a lot of fun. I will still be around the communitty as my recent posting has shown. I have made a lot of friends here and some not so friends.

Anyone who wants please stop by for a game or two. If you are banned for one reason or another PM me on n00bstories IRC and I will remove it foro the last few hours the server is up.

Again thanks for the fun
