AircraftkillerIceSentryAircraftkillerAlright, you contradicted yourself... Again.

You insult me, then you say I shouldn't speak to others in the same manner. Pick a personality and an argument, then stick with it. I don't like color-changing lizards and you're not an exception.

Either argue or get out of the thread, which you should have done long ago - you had no reason to be in the mod forum considering you don't even make anything for Renegade. Go complain somewhere else, where you belong.

As for contradictions, do you know what the difference is between a moron, and an imbecile? Do you know what the difference between a moron and an idiot? Do you know the difference when stop care. And who cares about modding this game. I went as far to make a skin, but thats about it, I didn't see any real value in modding for this game.

Okay, so you have no place in this forum and you just admitted it yourself. Do us all a favor and leave - you're only causing problems here by trying to play Crusader for All That is Righteous when you're dead wrong all the time.

Yeah, I know the difference. You're not a moron, you're not an imbecile, you're an idiot.

A foolish or stupid person.

You clearly fit that description by visiting a forum that you have no intent of using, except to irritate others. A better word for you is a troll.

an apt definition of you. See above. ^ then you too.

You see, now I'm dealing with you on your level of intelligence. From failure to respond to my other posts, inadequate detail or sanity, thence herefore and forthwith I'll deal with you at the level of the child you are and persist in being.
