Mono1TM6Well, I have watered this post down a lot to stop the one on this thread, which happens to be my only target, and sence it seems to be OT enough to be ignored, I guess I will stop.

Hope no one puts cooking oil and adds hot wires to make it a fire again though.

You will never stop me. Have you even identified in your own mind why it is me alone you wish to stop ? Probably not. You are not : a) the thought police or b)a moderator on this message board.

Therefor your attempts to control what people discuss are futile at best especially considering the manner in which you have chosen to 'extingush the flame'.
