Take a listen to it, then grab your copy of C&C95 (If you own it) and find a track that sounds like a cheesy 80s keyboard recording.

What you're hearing is Frank's C&C rendition of 80s music. This somehow found its way into the song Command & Conquer for Renegade. Listen to the melody of it, not the guitar, and you're hearing a redone version of that C&C 80s track.

Most people don't know that... Actually I think I'm like the only one who did.

For Hell March 2, listen to the menu music of Renegade Alert. That's Hell March 1.5. Hell March 2 incorporates its melody as the melodic side of the guitar.

At least they carried over something to RA2 from Red Alert, besides the two warring factions.
