Many of you may of heard of my clan:

The Chosen Men

If you haven't we run the SnipeONLY server on the USA side of renegade.

Well after our first couple of months of being a clan we have finally got our act together, sorted out our members and most importantly created ourselves a decent website...

<http://www.thechosenmen.co.uk>

Please check it out, register and become a part of our renegade community.

This is also the website for the SnipeONLY servers so if you have any comments this is the place to make them.

The SnipeONLY server is also looking for some more moderators,

Now to be a mod, you have to be a well known sniper that has played regulary on the Snipe Only server, also you have to be fair and level headed and abide by the moderators rules.

The role involves some work in game which can detract from your game playing, but it is worth it in the end to have fair and friendly games,

If you feel that this job is for you, visit the above website and request to be a moderator.
