Quote:Windows and Mac are meant to be user friendly OSs for the majority of society which still consists of more computer illiterate people then computer literate.

I have found quite the opposite. Macs are for video editing professionals, graphics artists, and 3d artists. A PC simple can't compare when performing these tasks. Contrary to popular belief, Macs are far from easy to use, at this point in development, the Aqua interface is plaged with bugs and cosmetic problems and feels sluggish at times. That's why I choose to use KDE instead.
