

---

Subject: The Passion of the Christ

Posted by warranto on Mon, 29 Mar 2004 23:20:05 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

There is no "Absolute Truth" to Religion. If it were, Religion would be a structure of science rather than a set of beliefs. We BELIEVE that our religion is right, yet we have no way of knowing whether it is or not. There is no proof for it, as well as no proof against it. Yes I am a Christian, and yes I BELIEVE that our way is the best way (if, at least, it's not the perfect way), however, I do not KNOW it to be that way.

And yes, I'm using the literal meanings of belief and knowledge.

---