Yea, we tried a double-chinook, but the mammoth just falls off. Maybe with proper co-ordination and timing to lift at the same time and shit you could get it.

What I really want to do is join some all out server with someone that's good at it, lift an artillery up to the cliff and attack the GDI buildings, see all the "WTF"s, and see if it ends up getting banned as an exploit.

btw exorcist mine is different because I included videos and a sedan race
