Conan4Lifeok i been thinking and alot of CnC fans want to see "Tiberium Twilight" but westwood been liquadated and EA is proly going to lay to rest the orginal CnC franchise with UO, bullfrog, and all the other companies that they "helped out" over the last few years.

the only way we will be able to get tiberium twilight it to make it our selfs mod the hell out of one of the CnC engines to be the game, ra2 engine vs the generals engine use renegade to make the FMV, action shots, briefings and another mod for that see if joe kugan want to do some voice overs for the return of Kane (:rolleyes: yea right)

just some thoughts

I've seen a lot of people "request" mods. The chances of any of them coming true is if it will have a 'huge' impact on a 5 or more person modding team. Besides, most of the ideas will become jobs rather than having fun.

Personally, I prefer fun.
