Its really that bad. Its not just me or any of us feeling superior or anything its sad though when I use a semi large word and people ask me what it means. This happens on a regular basis.

On the plus side I like to have a stupid friend at hand at all times. He makes me feel superior and is often times easy to please.

Unlike my other friend who is intelligent. He at his worst is an egotistical and controlling bastard. Who never wants to do anything and is hard as hell to please.

So smart people can be faggots.
