I download occasionally. I disable upload and I have a router so RIAA bastards can't catch me easily.

But In a month or two, I download like 2-3 songs. Not much at all.

If I listened to music much more than I do now, I'd sign up for those "$1/song" deals on the internet.

As for software, I download it and I try it. If I like it (and am going to use it often) I'll buy it. Well thats if it is affordable.
