Duke of NukesAmerica is quite possibly the most dispised nation in the world. The reason: people like you.

The reason: jealousy. Other countries that are not as prosperous or have as many freedoms are jealous of this fact. If we're so hated, why does everyone want to come here?

Duke of Nukesbow to terrorism? America is the largest terrorist country in the world. The message we send out with this war is more powerful than anything. Go against America, and you will be bombed.

You contradict yourself here. "Go against America, and you will be bombed."
How is that terrorism? If someone attacks us, we're not going to stand by and take it... that's why we're a world superpower.

Duke of NukesThe reason it's free has nothing to do with terrorism. I think someone needs to go back to school.

The reason we are free would start back in 1776 when we declared our independence and our forefathers put together the Constitution... and thousands have died and will continue to die to protect our country and that document for us and our children. People have been fighting wars for centuries and they're not going to stop any time soon.
