Notice the screenshot in the link above ^, and how it says skins under the "Downloads" section.

Apparently, ACK, or one of the staff members have fixed it...

Unfortunately, ACK isn't very observant. Why? Well, click on the link and you'll see...

And if you go to any page other than the main page, the link still says "Skins" instead of "Textures".

So yea...ACK, a man of contradictions

Other things to check out while at the site include the link named "The Mod" under the "Download" section, and the "Report bugs" page (here), which calls RenAlert a mod.[/url]

Do you enjoy making a fool out of yourself? Ack has nothing to do with the website. The people in charge of the website are Dante and Chronojam, and was Panther. You really need to do some thinking before you post bullshit like this.
