The card i have is an ATI Radeon 9000 pro w/64mb onboard memory and i left the default heatsink on it. I havent even touched any of the core clock speeds of anything in this system (although i overclocked other comps) although a heatsink replacement might be a good bet. I updated to the latest drivers (catalyst 4.4) and didnt seem to make a difference. I dont seem to have this problem in any other game (Homeworld 2, Unreal Tourny 2004). If my card is indeed dieing then can anyone give me a recomendation on a 4x agp graphics card that wont break my wallet.
