Of course I do. It's just that with NeoSaber writing on-demand scripts for RA, and you only doing them every so often (and publically saying "hay this is what RA is up to, go ahead and use their secrets!" in essence) sort of makes me just ask him to do stuff instead of you.

But everyone else enjoys your work. If not for you and what you've done, we wouldn't be this far in the game pertaining to scripts.
