It is 100% the people that win the game and how they use their tools.

On my server I don't have a time limit. On C&C_Under I have seen it go from nod, to gdi several times before nod was able to destroy the GDI advanced aggr tower. (I was on nod at the time) That was one of the longer games I have played. I have seen this happen on several maps. It is more so whoever can destroy the first building that will win. Although I have seen it do a 360 even after 2/3 buildings have been destroyed.

The team are even it is the players on the teams that are the problem.
