K9TrooperRen SizzlefabHow many countries are in the UN again?

Doesn't matter. Not all of the countries are against or for the war. Some are neutral.

It doesn't matter that only 35 out of 191 countries are involved in or support the war? It doesn't matter how many of the remainder are either neutral or against it, less than 20% are in support of the war. Hardly what I'd call overwhelming support.
