CrimsonDuke of Nukes:

Obviously you are unable to carry on a debate without resorting to personal insults. You are not a worthy opponent and I wash my hands of you.

Commando no. 448:

I don't think this is useless, nor is it a "forum war". Without knowing what the idiot pacifists think, how can I strengthen my own beliefs? If no one ever shares their ideas, we won't get anywhere. If you don't want to be a part of the debate and discussions, then stay out of this particular forum which has been designated for this purpose.

Well I was merely stating some oppinons. I never claimed that we should stop sharing our ideas. I never claimed that I wanted to remain out of these discussions. I actualy find this a good place to share ideas and get some entertainment. I stated that we can't change some of each others minds nothing more than that.

I do apologise and was planning to make a follow up post about my previous one after some thought. I realise that it did imply futility but then again let's hope people see this and tone down the flaming and keep it more to sharing ideas.

I find it does resemble a forum war though. People take sides on an issue and discuss it. But sadly that part that becomes "war" is certain individuals that do not wish to discuss this in an impersonal manner and misguide themselves that rage and insults strengthen their arguements.
