That's a very good hope. I hope no innocent Iraqis die either. I have a feeling though Saddam is gonna have human shields and such, and he already places small housing settlements around his Surface-to-Air missile batteries so there may be problems there. It's too bad we couldn't like... Ask all the iraqi citizens to take a 2 week vacation in Kuwait and US forces could sweep through Baghdad very quickly. Then they could return from vacation to a Saddam-less Iraq.
