Duke of Nukes Earlier today...a man was arrested for wearing a t-shirt that said something like "make peace, not war." ARRESTED...that is blatantly un-American further proof that you are not quite up to date and informed of the current situation... this was nearly 2 weeks ago. he was arrested in a mall for trespassing because SECURITY GUARDS asked him to remove his shirt. the police had no choice but to execute the request of the security guards as it was private property and the man refused to leave. the mall has since dropped all charges and apologized for a situation that should never have taken place.
