the depleted uranium shells from the last war caused lots of cancer to the citizens of Iraq and also to the US troops who served in the last war.

This latest sandstorm which is still occurring all around the troops contains this depleted uranium, now US troops are breathing this.

Bush don't give a damn about this cause the symptoms will appear long after the war has finished.

Depleted uranium once inhaled into the lungs causes long term suffering and painful death. Like I said Bush and co will never send their kids to fight this war.

People who support this are cowards, it's all fine sitting in front of your telly or PC and say this war is good. You're not in danger,
Go out and fight the Iraqis yourselves.
