Aircraftkiller! I speak with ignorance? I must have been speaking with a lot of intelligence when I repeatedly said you'd get nowhere.

Quote: In the past two-three days, Skier and I have modeled half an Iraqi city map, an M9, a Glock, worked on typeups of all the US weapons, modeled an AK-47, and started the shotgun. Look at the WIP forums to see the M9, AK-47, and Glock 18.

You made untextured models! Wow! Like everyone else can!

Quote: Meanwhile, we have school, sports, and a life to attend to.

This is the excuse of a loser. "I don't want to do anything better, or hold to my word, because I (gasp, like everyone else!) have other things besides this computer to tend to!"

Let me be the first person to say WE KNOW THAT ALREADY, NOW GET WITH SHOWING THE GOODS AND STOP BULLSHITTING.

1. Yes, that statement was correct, but doesn't have to do with this. I'm talking about the fact that you think that I don't work on MW, when I do a lot more than you think.
  2. I know everyone else can do it, that's why I'm not fucking showing it off. I'm only using it to prove that I'm working on MW.
  3. I'm only saying that because I only get 1-2 hours on the computer per weeknight. (No, I'm not complaining) This contributes to your idea of me doing nothing, which is why I brought it up in the first place.
