I am still occasionally getting kicked from my own server even though my user name is in the ssc_ignore.txt files.

Additionally there might still be a problem tracking who's on the RG network.

As I have posted before I don't actually let RenGuard kick people when there are only a few players on my server, and I sometimes see:

Someplayer is not on the RG network, removing.

Then latter on I will see an allow message, but the player in question has not left my server so they couldn't have started renguard.
