And the NS kiddies are so far up crimson's ass they can pull her feces out for her. The only "assrammer" was the "assrammer" that cheated on Black-Cell servers faxme4 (Crimson)

And I'm sure those blackcell guys haven't touched a single cheat.... yeah right. Look the bottom line is what do you to lose by using Renguard? Nothing... well unless you cheat - then thats a different story.

It doesn't install trojans, backdoor software etc. It does not take your serial as your admin seems to think. Oh wait... he can't tell what a hash does in Renguard, even though there have been posts CLEARLY explaining what the hash does. It does not contain the serial, but clearly your admin knows whats right and must flame and spoil the program for the rest of the community.... oh and that tidbit vloktboky wanted to STEAL Renguard??

WTF are up with you guys, just get out and flame it on your own forums. If you have a problem with cheaters as you seem to be... then ban them? Are you having problems with that as well

Look, just go away. This is the Renguard support not the 'Black cell members flaming renguard because their admin says so'... somewhat that sounds similar to your post... so to get the quote straight:

Quote:And the Blackcell kiddies are so far up vloktboky's ass they can pull her feces out for him.

Now onto the post:

Yes I would like to see the Renguard application bundled into an update. However remember that the Renguard team would have to get access to the WOL update servers.

But it depends on whether its possible and workable for the Renguard team...
