BearxorWhat these kind of people fail to see, is that even though the United States has a huge military with arms that most other countries do not have, we dont go threatening our neighbors every six months. We don't drop nukes on our own cities just because we're bored. We don't call our leader a 'president' and elect them by either a military coup, fear, or assination. We don't supress our media and execute people because they disagree with our leaders.

America having weapons of mass destruction and a lunatic like Hussein or Jong.

The fact that criminals are executed is worse enough in my eyes. And Bush was more or less elected by the Supreme Court.
