This is probably the weirdest thing that has ever happened to me. Here's the story:

Today I finished a small map (I started it today as well) and I sent it to cpo64 who in turn offered to fix it up and add some stuff. He then asks "So your names slash now" I, of course, have no clue what he's talking about until he says "guess you didn't see the "copyright.ini" in the .mix". I'm really confused now and go to see for myself:

This level was made by "Slash" on April 06, 2003.

Level tested by: IBRambo, NinjaSim, j4295602.

Plus this map wasn't the only one effected, all my maps from about 4 months ago have the same copyright.ini which is actually 2 years old.
