With what you just said and the explanation that we will be taken through a gate that wormholes space/folds space i feel like this is a striyline to the next Stargate SG1 episode.....

Yes it's all possible and sometimes makes you think.....i mean look at the evidence, But then again what if that evidence is there to keep us looking? what if it is placed there? What about De Ja Vu? etc....ever thought you could be in the martrix as well?

Silly but everything has evidence....what does the evidence point to? Belief....

Oh and Budha isnt a religion from Angels or Gods of any kind...research it, Siddat Gotama was a muslim prince who saw suffering, walked into the wild and meditated until he starved to death and reached "enlightenment" no gods there....their gods are those who are enlightened ones and even they arent devine in nature, just in stature....

It all seems fasniating to me, but so did the whole "the world is gonna end in 1997" crap and im still here.
