The damage done by the Ramjet rifle to light vehicles should be reduced, but it should still be able to do some damage to vehicles, you did pay $1000 for the thing afterwards. If they completely lose the ability to damage vehicles, then they should get some other trade off, such as more ammo, faster rate of fire, or more armour.

Or, if the viewing distance is increased, it should have a longer range.

But paying double the amount, for a little bit more health, will make these two characters absolutely useless.
