See for me, buying CDs isn't an option.
I live in China.

Meaning: the legal Cds sold here are bad pop-shit, rarely can i find good music that is legal, why is popshit sold here? we simple, its cheap to sell and every tourist with a fifteen year old daughter or son is buying Eminem and Britney Spears from here.

And in Finland music is so overpriced its not even funny.
Now downloading a game just to see if its fun to play and such is okay, and then buying it.
because i do not want to waste precious money on a game just to find out its complete shite.

KLR is what i use, its free of Spyware and such awful things, and even has an IP blocker and other nifty tools to keep the Commie-RIAA bastards off your tail.
