Don't be popular. Popularity is a disease. But also don't piss off everyone in the school- be at least on speaking terms with most people. However, I maintain that following every last socially accepted norm turns your brain into slush, so don't be too much of a conformist.

Also, don't let yourself get roped into thinking you can learn the way they try to teach you...figure out how you learn best, and do that. I guarantee you'll lose less points doing things your way than if you do things their way and do them wrong.

And no, you don't have to get straight A's. If you bust your ass 100% of the time to get perfect grades, you'll miss out on the whole back end of your childhood. When push comes to shove, happiness and a C owns the hell out of depression and an A.
