On any matter, I don't see how this could be considered a cheat, its exactly the same as crouching and walking in a direction, sept in this case you can't shoot. It doesn't even look cool, I was expecting a sholder roll, or something, but all it is, is your character ducking down swinging his arms around, and moveing in said direction, tho sometimes I could get them to do this little spin thing, but even that was dissapointing, so I went on a server and ran around the map swinging my arms around like an idiot. Strange thing was, no one said anything about it, I was dissapointed, eather they have seen it before, or they wern't able to see it at all.
