
Subject: "U.S. government objectives in Iraq"
Posted by havocsnipe on Sat, 22 Mar 2003 15:23:02 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I do apologise for my spelling mistakes, above. I was typing in a rush.
Next time I will try to be more carefull.

Back to Iraq.

Iraq was largely disarmed by the time U.N. inspectors left in 1998; it has been under the most stringent military embargo and economic sanctions in history; and it was destroying its al-Samoud missiles as requested by the U.N.

Iraq no nuclear capability according to the International Atomic Energy Agency.
