I got, and started testing it. One thing that would be really handy. Like on AIM you know how you can devide buddy's into like "Folders". So you get a name, and press + next to it to access them. Can support for that be added? Cause if so that would be really handy. I wanted to put every one on these forums in a folder and all my friends I know in real life in a nother folder. Just think it would be a neat feature, but great work so far npsmith!
