xXxTRANSLATION (courtesy of MaxPepper):Why have I suddenly been banned because of Yambalia or something? First, I have no idea why, and second, I would like to point out that I cannot read the remainder of the message in the window because there is no "word wrap"

I just find it curious why I get banned even though I did not play on the server? I don't understand it! And why does the guest get banned even though he does not play as Mytosumi (at least that is what I think), because it is my NIC! And why don't you simply say that you want to talk to me, Mac ? I think this would be the more appropriate manner rather than randomly banning, don't you think?

If you still want to talk to me, e-mail me or contact me in a different way. I won't install IRC just because you want to chat with me. )

I actually was rather looking forward to seeing the correspondence of his lawyer. Oh well ...
