gibberishEven if you have a results file how do you know which side actually won?

I thought about using the scores for each side but what happens if GDI are beating on Nods base for ages (while Nod is repairing) then Nod sneaks into the GDI base and nukes the pedistal.

In that case the losing side (GDI) may actually have the higher score.

PS I Just realized that if its a laddered game you can look at the + or - ladder points, what if its not laddered or everyone is GSA players hence have no ladder points?
Winning side is always on top and always has the higher score.
