
Subject: Video Card\Display Randomly Crashing

I recently upgraded from an ATI Radeon 9100 (PCI) to an ATI Radeon 9600XT (AGP).

There's a problem I want to fix that's really getting to me. My display will randomly crash for no apparent reason. It doesn't matter if I'm playing a game or just screwing around in Windows. My screen will just all of a sudden go black and the light on my monitor will turn orange. I've already tried reinstalling my drivers, changing some BIOS settings, even exchanging it for a new one but it still hasn't solved my problem. I can assure you that it's not overheating. I can't think of anything else to do.

Any ideas?
