BombarioI just wanted to note one thing that I find to be very important:

I read the thread on the servermatrix.com forums, and I'm appalled at how some of you acted. Particularly, Aeonreaper, SuperFlyingEngi, and Cowmisfit. I realize the amount of damage Alkaline has done/is doing to the Renegade community, but the forums for many of Ren's top server hosters is not the place to stage a flame battle! Do you realize the administrators of Server Matrix can see how childishly you are representing the Ren community--and possibly Crimson in their eyes? I'm not saying this as a "shut the hell up", but as a caution for the whole community. We lost support of Ren's developer (EA) at the start. We don't need any more problems.

And if I just sounded like an total idiot, oh well...

, i said what i said and i did it in a good manner, its not called a flame war there, i simply warned them of what lier and pieice of crap alkaline is, and then alkaline proved it even more himself.
