That's the goal of the June 1st initiative. We transitioned the pits and Renstation this weekend and it's going VERY well. I will post some detailed stats today after midnight.

Thank you SO much for this nice post about RenGuard. I know that it's going well, and thousands of gamers are using it daily without a problem, but if you're one of those people, please verbalize it more. Others who are waiting need to hear good things to be motivated.
