Right. I'm in a renguard protected snipe server and this guy was killing quite a lot of people with ease (hs). i didnt say any thing because it was renguard protected.
Few minuites later he gets kicked for "Reneguard no longer running".

I'm not sure, but what i want to know is, does it take a long time for renguard to dectect any unallowd files?

On a teamspeak channel i heard that you can be playing on a renguard sever for a short while untill renguard disconnects if you have bh cheats on.

He rejoined about 3 minuites later, on the next map. But every 15 secounds Blaze Regulator would say that he had joined and it said the amount of recomendations he had, however he was allways in the game (expect for when he was kicked).

I didnt get to see if he was doing as well this time as i was kicked off my computer by my little sister :oops: .

I know its a bit confusing, and it might just be me being a complete n00b, and not knowing what I'm talkin about . But is there anyway this temperary glitch was caused by the "hacking" of renguard?.

Anyways off to play rene bye
